NNE Pharmaplan receives Facility of the Year Award 2009

Two facilities designed by the engineering and consulting company, NNE Pharmaplan, have been awarded the prestigious international Facility of the Year Award 2009. The award is given to innovative and state-of-the-art pharma facilities. A jury of representatives from the International Society for Pharmaceutical Engineering (ISPE), a global association of 25,000 pharmaceutical science and manufacturing professionals recognised NNE Pharmaplan's contribution to the international biotech and pharma community. Hans Ole Voigt, President, NNE Pharmaplan said, "I believe our focus on the life science industry allows us to provide services that create more value than the services we would provide if we operated in other industries as well.

Because we have the process knowledge and the engineering background within pharma and biotech, we can assist our partners in improving their manufacturing capabilities with the most innovative, reliable solutions." The two award-winning facilities belong to a US-owned biotech company located in Switzerland and the German contract manufacturer Hameln Pharma. In Switzerland, NNE Pharmaplan has designed a 670 m² pilot plant, which won the award for best facility integration. In Germany, NNE Pharmaplan assisted Hameln Pharma in establishing its 9200 m² sterile production plant that won the award for operational excellence. That fact that two out of six Facility of the Year awards were presented to plants designed by NNE Pharmaplan indicates, according to Hans Ole Voigt, that the company is fully committed to the pharma and biotech industries. The Facility of the Year Awards is an annual programme that recognises projects utilising new innovative technologies to improve the quality of products, to reduce the cost of producing high-quality medicines, and demonstrate advances in project delivery.
